ARLINGTON OFFICIALS FAVOR NEW HIGHWAY AT BOSTON HEARING

Appear Before Senate Ways and Means Committee Yesterday — Seek State Highway Which Will Divert Heavy Traffic From Massachusetts Avenue To Outskirts—Proposed Road Would Give Employment To Many

With the hope that the proposed new site highway to Concord will be constructed, several Arlington officials as well as State Senator Warren and Representative Crosby appeared before the Senate Committee on Ways and Means to favor Senate bill 362 at the State House yesterday. The new highway would divert a large percentage of traffic now going through Massachusetts avenue to the outskirts of the town. Among those interested in the passage of this bill and who appeared before the committee at the State House yesterday were William O. Hauser, chairman of the board of selectmen; Walter F. Robinson, Ralph Adams and Edward T. Ryan of the Board of public works; and Walton H. Sears, chairman of the Arlington planning board. Mr. Hauser represented the town and spoke in favor of the bill at great length. The section of the new boulevard passing through Arlington would start near Lake street in East Arlington then to Pleasant street and thence through an underpass and over the hill along the Arlington Country club toward Belmont, Lexington and then to Concord. It would start in Cambridge. The cost of the new highway to the state would be approximately two and one-half million dollars and the stretch passing through Arlington would be constructed at a cost of about $685,000.

Representatives from every town in which the highway would pass were present at the hearing yesterday and all were highly in favor of the proposed route. Belmont representatives however felt that the betterment assessments which that town would have to reimburse to the state were too high.

As far as Arlington is concerned, it is believed that the state would have to pay approximately $100,000 to local property owners for damages to land taken. The town would then be compelled to repay to the state the amount of money paid out by the Commonwealth to these property owners. However, it is felt that the benefits which Arlington would derive from the new road would by far offset the money which would necessarily have to be paid out in taking the land. Furthermore, the building of the new road would mean employment for a large number of men over a long period.

The State would pay the entire cost of the highway. Damages assessed against the town should not exceed 20 percent of the total cost however. Should the Legislature vote to build the new road, the construction would start in three or four months. The first assessment by the State against the town would not become due before one year. The town would be allowed three years in which to pay back to the State Highway department, the money expended on betterment assessments in Arlington.

Speaking in favor of the new highway, Mr. Hauser pointed out that between thirty and forty percent of the traffic now going through Massachusetts avenue in Arlington is bound for Concord, Lexington and nearby communities. Very little of this traffic stops in Arlington, meaning that this extra heavy traffic is far from being an asset to the town. Mr. Hauser made it clear, naturally, that Arlington is in no way opposed to having visitors or neighbors in the town, but that this heavy traffic is a hindrance to local residents who wish to shop in the business district.

The new highway, if it goes through, will also contribute considerably to the development of Arlington Heights property.

The Arlington planning board has been working in the hopes of putting through the highway bill from the very start and it was only after several months of hard work that they succeeded in getting the attention of the State Highway Commissioner. Following yesterday's hearing before the Ways and Means committee, that body took the matter under advisement and should report the bill to the Senate within ten days or so. It is strongly believed that the bill will be reported favorably.

ARLINGTON AMERICAN LEGION ENTERTAINS VISITING LEGIONNAIRES

Arlington Post No. 39 of the American Legion was host to a large number of visiting Legionnaires at the old town hall last evening when the District Council meeting was held. A feature of the evening was the concert presented by Harry Wood and his American Legion band. Joe Barry and Larry Jenkins of WEEI fame also entertained the enthusiastic audience of visiting buddies.

Opening the meeting shortly after eight o'clock, Commander Welsh of the Arlington post greeted the visiting post commanders and members from Winchester, Woburn, and Somerville, all of the fourth district. He then introduced District Commander William Arbuckle who presided over the meeting.

Several matters were discussed and the County Council meeting which will take place in Melrose next Sunday afternoon was announced as one of the important events on the calendar for the near future. It is expected that the veterans' bonus bill will be discussed at this big session.

Selectman Leonard Collins, Senior county vice-commander John Husband, past department commander Alfred H. Knowles of the G. A. R., Middlesex County commander Daniel Doherty and the commanders of the various visiting posts were among the speakers of the evening. Commander Knowles who is ninety-one years of age is also commander of the Loyal Legion, a Civil war veterans' organization, received a big ovation from the younger veterans at the meeting.

Following the speaking program, the remainder of the evening was turned over to an informal social gathering during which delightful refreshments were served.

The special concert by the newly-organized band was enthusiastically received by the visiting Legionnaires and the conductor of the organization was given a considerable applause. The meeting closed shortly before midnight.

Thieves Unable To Take Auto Minus A Wheel

It may be an easy matter to drive away with a parked automobile belonging to some individual, but when it comes to stealing an automobile which is minus one wheel that's a different story. At least that's what some would-be auto thief discovered in Arlington yesterday morning.

Austin Doyle of 14 Temple street, Arlington, reported to police headquarters that a rear wheel came off his car at the corner of Wildwood avenue and Lockeland avenues early yesterday morning. He was forced to stop and park the car at this intersection and then walked away to a garage in order to have the car towed away. While he was gone, the car disappeared. He reported the auto as stolen and the Arlington police sent out a teletype message to nearby communities in order to locate the missing auto.

About an hour and a half later, Sergeant Thomas F. Meagher found the car, abandoned by those who had driven it away. It was parked on Field road, near Lockeland avenue. Sergeant Meagher was sent to Doyle's home to notify him of the discovery but no one was at home at the time. The police notified McManus' garage and the car was towed away.

Police Officer Returns From Providence After Thorough Investigation of Clue — Observation From Plane Over Spy Pond Late Yesterday Afternoon Is Fruitless—Police To Drag Pond Again Today—Interest In Missing Trio State-Wide

After a long day of hectic searching for the three Arlington high school boys who have been missing from their homes since last Monday, police temporarily called a halt late last night. The search was to be resumed this morning however and the dragging of the Spy Pond waters on the theory that the bodies of the missing youths might be in the pond will go on today.

Returning from Providence at nine o'clock last night, police officer William Colbert reported that no valuable information regarding the youths could be found there. The officer left for that city with the father of Gino Santolignido, one of the missing boys, and a friend of the family when in was reported that three boys answering the description of the trio had boarded the Providence local train which left Boston at 11 p. m. daylight saving time last Monday night. According to the report, the boys left the train in Providence that night and asked a New Haven railroad freeman the whereabouts of an inexpensive lodging place. Police immediately followed this clue and officer Colbert left with the two Arlington men yesterday morning. Arriving in Providence, they investigated thoroughly but their search was disappointing. Officer Colbert and Santolignido's father returned to Arlington last evening while the third member of the searching party remained in Providence in follow up possible clues that might lead to the discovery of the lads.

Reserve officer Zwick and Gene Daley, electrician connected with the department, flew over Spy Pond late yesterday afternoon in an effort to locate the bodies in the water. Zwick, in whose plane the search was conducted, reported at 6.25 o'clock last night that he had circled over the pond several times but had failed to discern any object which might be the bodies of the missing youths. He headed back to the Revere airport where his plane is kept in a hangar.

Despite a bitter cold day and unexpected snowfall, police officers James Flynn, Thomas Curran, James Ryan and Ferdinand Lucarelli under the supervision of Sergeant Albert E. Ryan remained at their post and continued to drag Spy Pond waters in police boats up until darkness last night. From many quarters, the police have been praised for their feverish work in carrying on the search which thus far has brought no discovery of the missing boys. They are determined to make sure that the bodies of the youths are not in Spy Pond before they give up their work with grappling irons. A canoe which the three boys used last Monday was found floating on the waters of the pond. Despite this fact, some are of the opinion that the boys might have jumped on a truck leaving Wyman's farm nearby, and have gone away on an adventure trip for the remainder of their vacation week.

With the search continuing, rumors of all sorts were broadcast throughout the town yesterday afternoon.

It was reported late in the afternoon that the body of John Vogel, one of the missing trio, had been found in the pond. This was false. Another rumor had it that the boys were found in New Jersey. This also proved to be erroneous. The families had heard no news from their sons up until late last night. The third missing boy is David Henrich of 61 Newcomb street. Vogel lives at 72 Thorndike street and Santolignido lives at 78 Harlow street.

Arlington High Calls Game Off

The weather man failed to give Arlington High a break yesterday and the game which was scheduled to be played with Wakefield High was called off. This game was to be a regular Mystic Valley League tilt but due to the cold weather and the snowfall which made matters worse, there was no possibility of playing yesterday's game.

If weather conditions keep up, it is possible that the boys will take to the gridiron and chase after the leather oval. Anything might happen! In the meanwhile the boys are taking things easy during their vacation week and should show plenty of pep in the next game.

Hiking Popular With Girl Scouts Of Medford Council

During vacation week, troop meetings were suspended and many troops enjoyed hikes to Camp Coolidge at Cedar Hill, or to spots nearer home. Scouts also employed this time to solicit orders for Doughnut Day, for all are anxious to win the prize to be awarded to the Girl Scout selling the largest number of doughnuts—a week at Camp Coolidge.

The warm weather makes every Scout realize that camp time is near, and applications for Camp Coolidge are coming in rapidly. Plans for the camp are being made all the time, and the program this summer will offer campers everything dear to the hearts of Girl Scouts. There will be expert instruction in swimming, diving, and life saving under a corps of Red Cross life savers and examiners; sports will take the form of archery, tennis, baseball, and games of all sorts. There will be new types of handicraft offered, including leather, silver work, basketry, weaving and toy making. Nature study, dramatics, and Scout work of all sorts will be part of the program as usual.

All campers will have opportunities for outdoor cooking, hiking and special trips for canoeing and mountain climbing, providing they can pass the preliminary tests.

Camp Coolidge will have the two units again this year, Tanglewood, for girls 10 to 13, and Lumberlost, for the older girls. In Lumberlost, the girls are true Pioneers, cooking two meals a day out of doors on open fireplaces, chopping wood, making gadgets, and planning programs of particular interest to their years and camping experience. An excellent staff of young women especially selected for their experience with understanding of girls, will supervise the campers in their various activities. Miss Fennessey will again direct the camp, and Miss Frances Howard, graduate of Abbott Academy, and Girl Scout Captain in Brookline, will again assist her. Miss Sarah Fuller, a student at Smith College, who has been at Camp Coolidge for two years, will have charge of the nature work. Miss Sylvia Gates, graduate of Sargent School of Physical Education, who has been head swimming counselor in private camps for two summers, will direct the water program. A trained dietitian will plan the meals; plenty of milk, fresh fruit, and vegetables are provided daily in the camp menus. A nurse will also be a staff member and will make a daily check-up on the health of all campers. Other counselors are specially chosen for their training in the work they supervise.

Over 200 Girl Scouts turned out for the Parade on Patriots' Day and were led by Mrs. Frank Pote, Captain of Troop 1; other officers present were Miss Ruth Fennessey, director, Mrs. Horace Morse, captain of Troop 13, and Miss Urita Pote, 1st lieutenant in Troop 1.

The training course was held on Tuesday of this week instead of on Thursday.

The monthly meeting of the troop captains was held on Tuesday, at six-thirty o'clock, at the Scout Headquarters on Governors avenue. The meeting was in charge of the captain and lieutenants of Troop one.

Troop 2—Mrs. Marshall Mower, captain. Fifteen girls enjoyed an all day trip to Cedar Hill on Thursday of vacation. The Food Sale, held on Saturday was well attended, and proved to be a success financially.

Troop 3—Miss Clara Webster, captain. Members of the cast of the play "Little Women", which is to be held on May 13, enjoyed hikes and out-door lunches following two rehearsals held during the past week.

Troop 10—Mrs. Reginald Hayes, captain. An outdoor meeting was held on Tuesday of this week. The girls are working on their first and second class tests.

Troop 13—Mrs. Horace Morse, captain. An all day hike was enjoyed by the troop on Friday of vacation week. The troop lieutenant, Mrs. McFadden, and Marjorie Allen accompanied the girls on their hike in Lawrence woods.

Troop 6—The Senior Troop. Miss Ruth Fennessey captain, conducted a very successful "Game Night in a German Biergarten" on April 21, which netted them a profit of $12. This money is to be used for campships at Camp Coolidge. The event was conducted by Mary Guido and Helen Michelson, assisted by a Committee made up of Elizabeth Clark, Amy Wild, Evelyn and Phyllis Nelson, Evelyn Johnston, Dorothea Haselton, Helen Kelleher and Althea Hayes. About 50 people were present and enjoyed the games and home made root beer, (made by Helen Michelson), pretzels, peanuts and candy. Irene Haselton of Troop 12, assisted as candy seller. Thanks are due the Medford library for the loan of German posters which made our setting more effective; candle light, girls in German costumes, and Helen Michelson and Amy Wild as bartenders.

Testifying in Stock Probe

Representative Fiorello H. La Guardia of New York is shown (standing) as he testified before the Senate Committee investigating operations on the stock market. The Congressman, backed by a "trunkful of evidence," made sensational charges that publicity campaigns were staged to artificially boost stocks. La Guardia also produced promoter's checks, said to have been cashed by financial writers who received them for writing optimistic opinions as to the future of certain stocks.

tenders also lent atmosphere! Phyllis Nelson, Troop 6, gave a reading at Troop 1, Cambridge's performance of the play, "The Thirteenth Star", on April 23.

Troop 4—Mrs. P. H. Belyea, Captain, were the guests of Troop 1 at a nature lecture given by Mrs. Parmenter of Arlington on April 28. Moving pictures and slides were shown of birds, flowers, trees, and other nature subjects, a very enjoyable and profitable afternoon! Barbara Parks, was invested as a Tenderfoot at the last meeting. One new member, Phyllis Wilson, has been added.

CIRCUS AT BOSTON GARDEN

Once again all roads lead to Boston for the limited engagement of Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey Circus which opens Monday night, May 2, and continues for one week at Boston Garden. The opening performance is designated for the benefit of the Children's Hospital.

Heading an enlarged program of super-thrills is youthful Captain Beatty alone and single-handed in a gigantic steel arena with forty ferocious lions and tigers, the largest mixed group ever confronted by a trainer in the whole history of circusdom.

Hundreds of thrills are woven into the brilliant tapestry of the circus performance this year. From Russia comes Miss Tamara, sensational aerialist and Europe's latest device for making Americans hold their breath. Other features new to Boston include Bombay, the Man from India, mysterious new circus thriller: The Castrenill's, renowned acrobatic ladder experts in their North American debut. Madcap Dorothy Herbert, daring equestrienne, offers an exhibition of hurricane horsemanship in fitting tribute to the city that echoed the thundering hoofbeats of Paul Revere and his Concord-bound ride.

Into the deepest jungles of French Equatorial Africa went circus representatives to return with a new tribe of monster-mouthed Ubangi Savages. Circus spectators at Boston Garden will see the intrepid Zaccchini, human projectile, in longer and more terrific flights. An integral part of this kaleidoscopic whirl of color and action is a double-barreled barrage of comedy presented by a congress of 100 internationally-famous clowns.

An expanded menagerie this year features 50 elephants and 1000 rare wild animals including a herd of the loftiest giraffes in captivity.

Siphoning a gallon of gasoline from a car near Haines square Medford, Tuesday night proved pretty expensive for a Stoneham youth, Guido A. Pezzole, who was charged in court with the theft of the gasoline, valued at 16 cents, and was fined $15. Three companions, who proved to be juveniles, had their cases continued to the juvenile court.

It appeared that Pezzole had a car, the tank of which was almost dry, and that the boys were siphoning to replenish their fuel. Patrolman Amorosa who made the arrest, reported that he seized a tin, glass jars and rubber tubes. The defendant pleaded guilty.

Committee Favors New Point of Pines Bridge At Revere

The House Ways and Means committee of the Legislature has reported favorably on the bill for the construction of a new bridge over the Saugus river between Revere and Lynn at a cost of $1,315,000.

The new bridge will be erected just upstream from the present wooden structure so that traffic will not be seriously delayed during construction. It will have a span of 1250 feet, with a roll-type draw 100 feet wide and the roadway will be 60 feet wide. Cost of the bridge is to come out of the highway tax but maintenance is to be assessed on the cities and towns benefited.

CHILD need REGULATING?

CASTORIA WILL DO IT!

When your child needs regulating, remember this: the organs of babies and children are delicate. Little bowels must be gently urged—never forced. That's why Castoria is used by so many doctors and mothers. It is specially made for children's ailments: contains no harsh, harmful drugs, no narcotics. You can safely give it to young infants for colic pains. Yet it is an equally effective regulator for older children. The next time your child has a little cold or fever, or a digestive upset, give him the help of Castoria, the children's own remedy. Genuine Castoria always has the name:

"MORE and MORE WOMEN ask for BREAD made from flour that has NOT BEEN CHEMICALLY BLEACHED!"

Women today know foods. They agree with the Morehouse bakers—flour bleached by chemicals has no place in their children's bread.

They want bread to have the full wheaty flavor—their families to have the rich, health-bringing nourishment that flour not bleached by chemicals gives to BETSY ROSS.

BETSY ROSS is all real food—because baked to the highest possible standards, from the richest ingredients procurable. A notable economy!

Injured As He Is About To Step Into Auto By Passing Truck

While about to step into his sedan, which was parked in front of Malden City hall Tuesday afternoon about 5:15, George F. Crowley of 52 Pinkert street, Medford, was struck by a passing truck.

He was dragged a short distance, sustaining bruises on his arms and a general shaking up. He declined medical attention and was able to make his way home unassisted.

He had opened the door of his car when the truck, operated by Hugh W. Coffey, 22 Allston street, Charlestown, struck him. The door of the sedan was damaged.

Must Show Sticker Or Face Penalty

Warning was given in a statement issued yesterday afternoon by Morgan T. Ryan, State Registrar of Motor Vehicles, that beginning next Monday all cars not displaying a green sticker to show they have been inspected will be stopped and reported. Failure to comply with the law may mean suspension of the license to operate. The full force of inspectors will be on the road.

Mr. Ryan's statement is as follows: "The Spring campaign to check up those cars which have not yet had their equipment inspected will start Monday morning, May 2. I have ordered the entire force of my inspectors and examiners in all parts of the State to be out on the road and on the alert to stop every car not displaying the official green sticker as evidence that its equipment has been duly inspected."

"Under the rules and regulations requiring this periodic check-up as to brakes, headlights, rear lights and other equipment, every car should be inspected and should display the green sticker within 15 days after it is registered and operated on the highways. Car owners, therefore, who obtained their plates in January have had four months' time in which to have the car inspected. For them, as well as for those who have taken their cars out in February, March or previous to April 15, there is now no excuse for not having complied with the regulations. "All cars not carrying the green stickers, and all owners not able to show their registration papers with certificate of inspection attached will be reported on complaint cards. These cards, in the case of owners found operating unlicensed motor vehicles, will result in immediate suspension of the license of such owners. In cases where the car is operated by a person other than the owner, the complaint card will result in a hearing to be given the owner relative to the revocation of his registration.

"This regulation requiring the inspection of all cars, and this action by the Registrar in cases of delinquent owners, is distinctly a safety measure designed to reduce accident hazards on the highways. The charge for inspection at any approved inspection should not exceed 50 cents, except where there are broken or defective parts to be renewed. In view of the small expense involved, I am confident that every right-minded and law-abiding motorist in the Commonwealth will see to it that the mechanical equipment of his car is such as not to endanger either his own life or the lives of others."

Plan Dedication Of Washington Highway Friday

Plans for the dedication of the Massachusetts George Washington Memorial Highway running from Boston, through Worcester and Springfield, over the old Boston Post Road and down the west side of the Connecticut river to the State line at Agawam will be discussed at a regional luncheon-meeting sponsored by the Massachusetts George Washington Bicentennial Commission at the Bancroft Hotel, Worcester, Friday at 12:30 p. m., April 29.

The Memorial Highway dedication, one of the outstanding events on the State Bicentennial program, will take place on June 8, 9 and 10, starting at Agawam at noon on June 8. At this point, the Massachusetts delegation will meet the Connecticut State Memorial Highway sponsors after the latter have conducted similar exercises over the new Connecticut Washington Memorial Highway running from New Haven to the Massachusetts line at Agawam. Joint exercises between the authorities of the two states will inaugurate the Massachusetts dedicatory exercises at the Eastern States Fair Grounds in West Springfield.

Dr. Albert Bushnell Hart, National Historian of the United States George Washington Bicentennial Commission, and Chairman of the Massachusetts State Commission, will preside at the Bancroft Hotel meeting. Commissioners Robert E. Green, and Alexander Brin will outline the project; and tell how thousands of citizens of the Commonwealth can take an active part in this event.

Invitation Sent Out. Invitations have been extended to the heads of the various committees in the twenty-six cities and towns along the highway route. They include: Agawam, Mrs. George H. Reed; West Springfield, Mr. Winthrop Bragg; Springfield, Mr. William F. Adams; North Wilbraham, Mrs. H. W. Cutler; Palmer, Mr. David L. Bodfish; West Brimfield, Mrs. E. S. Elder; West Brookfield, Mr. M. C. Webb; Brookfield, Rev. Henry J. Kilborn; East Brookfield, Mr. George A. Putney; Spencer, Mr. Alonzo A. Bemis; Worcester, Prof. Zelotes W. Coombs; Shrewsbury, Mrs. Alice S. Knowlton; Northborough, Rev. Charles S. Pease; Marlboro, Mrs. Charles F. McCarthy; Framingham, Mr. Carl Dods; South Sudbury, Miss Emily F. Willis; Weston, Mr. L. Manlius Sargent; Wayland, Mrs. Nellie Rice Fiske; Waltham, Mr. John H. Walsh; Watertown, Mr. Maurice H. O'Connell; Cambridge, Mr. Stephen H. Mahoney; Boston, Hon. Thomas A. Mullen.

Unique Exercises. The exercises to be held in connection with the Highway dedication will be unique in character, and one of the largest undertakings ever attempted in the history of the state. It is predicted that approximately one hundred thousand persons will take part, and over a million persons will witness the event. Members of the Commission have conferred with President Hoover with a view to having him officiate in the highway dedication. The President assured the Massachusetts Commission that he would make every effort to be in Massachusetts and travel over the route which Washington himself took during his visit to this Commonwealth in 1789, as first President of the United States of America. Secretary of the Navy, Charles Francis Adams, likewise has been consulted concerning this program, and undoubtedly will play an important part in the ceremony. Governor Joseph B. Ely, and other prominent State and Federal notables will also take conspicuous parts in this event.

First Stop Springfield. Under the plans of the State Commission, the first stop-over will be at Springfield, where the Bicentennial Committee of that city, headed by Mayor Dwight R. Winter and W. P. Adams, Chairman of the Bicentennial Committee, will conduct impressive exercises. From Springfield on the 9th, the Massachusetts procession will continue to Worcester, where the dedication exercises will be held until the following day. The following day, June 10, the procession will move on to Boston, where, at the city line, the City of Boston Bicentennial Committee will escort "George Washington" and his entourage through the city. A great patriotic mass meeting will feature the City of Boston program.

Several thousand school children will take prominent parts in the general exercises in each of the twenty-six cities and towns through which the highway passes. The dedication exercises in the individual cities and towns will be constructed largely around a tablet marking the highway, to be erected at some conspicuous point in these communities. "George Washington" will be escorted from one town to another and join in the individual exercises. He will describe in the first person his previous experiences and visits to these points during his trip as President of the United States in 1789.

Reenact Circumstances. Each city and town will, as near as possible, reenact the circumstances such as took place when Washington passed through the community on his way to Boston. The roar of cannons will announce the approach of "Washington" at many of these cities and towns. Many of the cities will portray in costume several of the outstanding Massachusetts men of Washington's time in these communities.

Because of the significance of this very important event on the state program for the Bicentennial year, the Massachusetts Commission is especially anxious that wherever possible, the individual city and town Bicentennial Committees will have the cooperation of the various historical societies, World War Veterans, other war veterans, patriotic organizations and service clubs. It urges the heads of these various organizations to communicate at once with the Chairman of the Bicentennial Commission with a view to taking some part in the program.

The Massachusetts George Washington Bicentennial Commission is composed of the following members: His Excellency Joseph B. Ely, Governor of the Commonwealth, Honorary Chairman, Dr. Albert Bushnell Hart, Chairman, Hon. Francis Prescott, Vice-Chairman, Judge Felix Forte, Secretary-Treasurer, Alphonse Bachorowski, Esq., Mrs. Charles Sumner Bird, Alexander Brin, Esq., Hon. John P. Buckley, Prof. Walter J. Campbell, Mrs. William G. Dwight, Gustave Everberg, Esq., Cap. Thomas G. Frothingham, Major Robert E. Green, Mrs. Stephen P. Hurd, Honorable Joseph Legare, Capt. Thomas H. Ratigan, Mrs. Carl L. Schrader, Prof. Frank Vogel, Executive Committee: Major Robert E. Green, Chairman, Alphonse S. Bachorowski, Alexander Brin, Judge Felix Forte, Dr. Albert Bushnell Hart, Hon. Joseph Legare, Hon. Francis Prescott, Mrs. Carl L. Schrader, George E. Huestis, Executive Secretary.

NOVEL CLUB MEETING

Something unique was furnished the members of the Good Cheer Club at their meeting Tuesday night at the home of the Misses Evelyn and Kathryn Marston, 63 Dover street. It came in the form of a talk by June Christofensen of Natal, South Africa, a demure, but well informed young American girl of 15 years.

June, never in a school until her sophomore year in Newton High school gave vivid impressions of ideal climate in Africa, of fierce looking but gentle savages, of cities with large buildings of excellent architecture.

Heathen people remain, but education is sending them into the background, giving first place to students anxious to learn.

A social hour, in the glow of candles, brought the meeting to a close.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel your stomach and the whole system, don't swallow a lot of pills, laxative water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly smart and bright and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a man's got to get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Can't blame up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in pimples. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes these good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get that two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, actually when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't take for five pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Repeat a substitute. See all stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

Breeze through traffic with the new TEXACO FIRE-CHIEF GASOLINE

Shrieking sirens—the roar of a powerful engine—a red streak flashes by and she's on her way! There's power for you—real honest-to-goodness power—the kind of power you'd like to have right under your own accelerator!

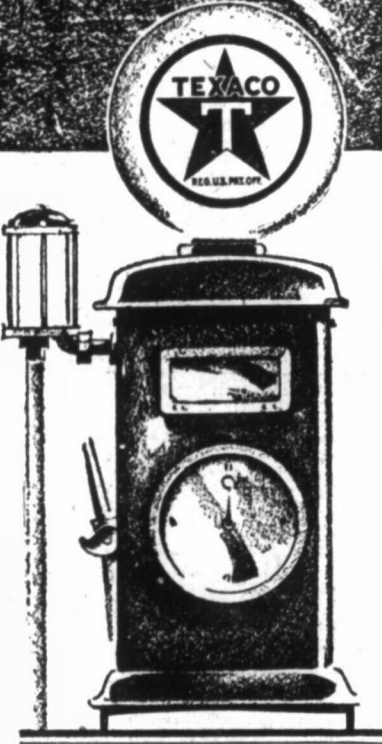

Today you can have it. Not the fire engine, of course, nor the siren nor the bell—but the very same power gasoline which surpasses federal specifications for use in United States Government emergency equipment.

Here's what Uncle Sam uses this type of gasoline for . . . "ambulances, fire-engines and emergency vehicles." What the Government uses for emergency equipment—you can now have for your own everyday use at no extra price.

Texaco Fire-Chief Gasoline is an anti-knock gasoline with an octane rating that is outstanding. And remember Texaco Fire-Chief plus Ethyl equals Texaco-Ethyl, now more than ever the leading premium gasoline.
